What is LPYC all about?

Located at the foot of mound street and adjacent to the historic village of East Davenport, LPYC maintains an important heritage in the Quad Cities.

For more than a century people have been gathering to enjoy the beauty and recreational activities associated with living near the river. While a large part of this type of activity involves recreational boating, you do not have to own a boat to enjoy the club sponsored social events, the beauty of the river, and the pleasure of dining on the waterfront.

LPYC has endured the test of time and has come to be recognized as one of the premier destinations for many of those who travel the river by boat.
